

Authorlaz2001

Member

Posts: 10
From: St Albans,
Hertfordshire,
England
Registered: Aug 2002

Topic: Space City Cover Society - NASA Local Post📧 posted October 14, 2002 09:34 PM

I have been collecting commemorative covers and 'local post' sheets from the 'space city cover society'. I have been all over the net, with several search engines, and I can't find a list of the covers they produced, or a proper history of the society.

Can anyone help me out?

If not, I intend to put a list together of all the items I have (on Excel). If anyone has any of these items I could send them the list and they could let me know of any items they have which were not already listed. That way all those interested could build a list ourselves.

RMH

Member

Posts: 560
From: Ohio
Registered: Mar 2001

📧 posted October 15, 2002 09:58 AM

Try writing:

Space City
PO Box 36192
Houston TX 77236

I purchased several of the Space City Cover Society covers from them last year. I think they are the ones that produced these covers. At the time they sent me a couple for sale lists of the various Apollo program covers they had left (event covers, FDC.) I expected to get more lists from them but never did. It may be best to send an SASE.

I do not think they have anything on the net.

If you get a reply - post the results if positive.

Good Luck-

I have many of there FDCs (the common ones), if you want a list just let me know.

laz2001

Member

Posts: 10
From: St Albans,
Hertfordshire,
England
Registered: Aug 2002

📧 posted October 16, 2002 04:59 PM

Thanks for the info - I'll try writing to them
If this fails then we can try and put a list together ourselves.

[This message has been edited by laz2001 (edited October 16, 2002).]