DTV FLIGHTS

These are DROP TEST VEHICLE (DTV) flights done by a USAF/Boeing B-52 carrier aircraft #008 stationed at Edwards, Calif. It carried a scaled-down model of the Shuttle Solid Rocket Booster airborne in preparation for a parachute drop test. When Space Shuttle is actually launched, the Shuttle Booster will be parachuted back to Earth. The first three covers in this series (Jun 10, 1977 a.m., Jun 10 p.m., and Jun 15) have been offered by us previously. We now have the final six covers in this series ready and the cachet matches the one illustrated above. The complete set of six new covers only $5.00

NEW ASTRONAUTS REPORT TO JSC

On July 10, 1978, 35 new astronaut candidates for the Space Shuttle program reported for duty at the Johnson Space Center in Houston. There, they began a two-year period of training and evaluation. We have a single cover, cacheted, for the reporting date at only 80¢. We also have a double-cancel cover. The first postmark is Houston (January 16, 1978) when the astronaut candidates were chosen and the second cancel (Houston) on July 10, 1978, the day they reported to JSC. Only a few of this double cancel cover...and only $2.00 (None of these covers...either the single or double cancel...have been offered previously so it you want to add them to your collection, now is the best time.)

MISSION SPECIALISTS FOR SPACELAB 1

Astronauts Dr. Owen K. Garriott and Dr. Robert A. Parker were selected on August 1, 1978 as Mission Specialists on the Spacelab 1 mission. That flight is planned for 7 days with about 40 experiments. Mission Specialists have the overall responsibility for the coordination, with the Commander and Pilot, of Space Shuttle operations. This cover is priced at 80¢.

APOLLO 15 FIFTH ANNIVERSARY

It has been quite some time since we left off with the series of fifth anniversary covers for the Apollo flights. The last one we did was for Apollo 14. We now have the ones ready for Apollo 15 and offer them now. (the anniversary covers for Apollo 16 and 17 will be offered with the next mailing). Don't forget...the tenth anniversary of Apollo 11 will be next July and the limelight will find a lot of collectors hunting around for other Apollo Mission covers! As we did on the previous "Apollo Fifth Anniversary" covers, we have a single, postmarked Houston, July 30, 1976 (fifth anniversary of Apollo 15 Moonlanding) and priced at only 70¢. Then, as in the past, we have the set of three covers with our Mailer's Postmark, a single cover for launch, Moonlanding, and splashdown. The set of 3 only $1.75

 The above illustrations are those of past covers to show comparative design for the DTV covers, the Apollo Fifth Anniversary single cover and the set of three for Apollo 15 anniversary.
